5:10 PM – 6:00 PM Reconciliation Workshop with Holly, Eliza, Mitch, LJ

Reconciliation has become an important element of the work we do while serving community. Having a safe space and making time for intentional conversation about our experiences helps others be brave to have conversations in their homes, workspaces and public events. There will be an open question and answer period at the end, so bring your thoughts and openness to the table! Everyone is welcome! We will be adding to our ribbon rope again this year so think about one promise, commitment to reconciliation that you feel is possible to achieve for yourself or your family. The ribbons are places to hold those commitments to reconciliation and it is nice to see them all together once again!
